General Certificate of Secondary Education

Mark Scheme for November 2022

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

MARKING INSTRUCTIONS

PREPARATION FOR MARKING SCORIS

1. Make sure that you have accessed and completed the relevant training packages for on-screen marking: RM assessor Online Training; OCR Essential Guide to Marking.
2. Make sure that you have read and understood the mark scheme and the question paper for this unit. These are posted on the RM Cambridge Assessment Support Portal <http://www.rm.com/support/ca>
3. Log-in to RM and mark the required number of practice responses (“scripts”) and the required number of standardisation responses.

YOU MUST MARK 10 PRACTICE AND 10 STANDARDISATION RESPONSES BEFORE YOU CAN BE APPROVED TO MARK LIVE SCRIPTS.

MARKING

1. Mark strictly to the mark scheme.
2. Marks awarded must relate directly to the marking criteria.
3. The schedule of dates is very important. It is essential that you meet the 50% and 100% (traditional 50% Batch 1 and 100% Batch 2) deadlines. If you experience problems, you must contact your Team Leader (Supervisor) without delay.
4. If you are in any doubt about applying the mark scheme, consult your Team Leader by telephone, email or via the RM messaging system.

Mark Scheme

5. Crossed Out Responses

Where a candidate has crossed out a response and provided a clear alternative then the crossed-out response is not marked. Where no alternative response has been provided, examiners may give candidates the benefit of the doubt and mark the crossed-out response where legible.

Rubric Error Responses – Optional Questions

Where candidates have a choice of question across a whole paper or a whole section and have provided more answers than required, then all responses are marked and the highest mark allowable within the rubric is given. Enter a mark for each question answered into RM assessor, which will select the highest mark from those awarded. (The underlying assumption is that the candidate has penalised themselves by attempting more questions than necessary in the time allowed.)

Short Answer Questions (requiring only a list by way of a response, usually worth only one mark per response)

Where candidates are required to provide a set number of short answer responses then only the set number of responses should be marked. The response space should be marked from left to right on each line and then line by line until the required number of responses have been considered. The remaining responses should not then be marked. Examiners will have to apply judgement as to whether a 'second response' on a line is a development of the 'first response', rather than a separate, discrete response. (The underlying assumption is that the candidate is attempting to hedge their bets and therefore getting undue benefit rather than engaging with the question and giving the most relevant/correct responses.)

Short Answer Questions (requiring a more developed response, worth two or more marks)

If the candidates are required to provide a description of, say, three items or factors and four items or factors are provided, then mark on a similar basis – that is downwards (as it is unlikely in this situation that a candidate will provide more than one response in each section of the response space.)

Longer Answer Questions (requiring a developed response)

Where candidates have provided two (or more) responses to a medium or high tariff question which only required a single (developed) response and not crossed out the first response, then only the first response should be marked. Examiners will need to apply professional judgement as to whether the second (or a subsequent) response is a 'new start' or simply a poorly expressed continuation of the first response.

6. Always check the additional pages (and additional objects if present) at the end of the response in case any answers have been continued there. If the candidate has continued an answer there then add a tick to confirm that the work has been seen.

J351/02

Mark Scheme

November 2022

7. Award No Response (NR) if:

- there is nothing written in the answer space.

Award Zero '0' if:

- anything is written in the answer space and is not worthy of credit (this includes text and symbols).

Team Leaders must confirm the correct use of the NR button with their markers before live marking commences and should check this when reviewing scripts

8. The RM comments box is used by your Team Leader to explain the marking of the practice responses. Please refer to these comments when checking your practice responses. Do not use the comments box for any other reason.

If you have any questions or comments for your Team Leader, use the telephone, email or the scoris messaging system.

9. Assistant Examiners will send a brief report on the performance of candidates to their Team Leader (Supervisor) via email by the end of the marking period. The report should contain notes on particular strengths displayed as well as common errors or weaknesses. Constructive criticism of the question paper/mark scheme is also appreciated.

10. For answers marked by levels of response:

- To determine the level – start at the highest level and work down until you reach the level that matches the answer
- To determine the mark within the level, consider the following:

Descriptor	Award mark
On the borderline of this level and the one below	At bottom of level
Just enough achievement on balance for this level	Above bottom and either below middle or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Meets the criteria but with some slight inconsistency	Above middle and either below top of level or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Consistently meets the criteria for this level	At top of level

12. Subject-specific Marking Instructions

INTRODUCTION

Your first task as an Examiner is to become thoroughly familiar with the material on which the examination depends. This material includes:

- the specification, especially the assessment objectives
- the question paper and its rubrics
- the unseen texts
- the mark scheme.

You should ensure that you have copies of these materials.

You should ensure also that you are familiar with the administrative procedures related to the marking process. These are set out in the OCR booklet Instructions for Examiners. If you are examining for the first time, please read carefully Appendix 5 Introduction to Script Marking: Notes for New Examiners.

Please ask for help or guidance whenever you need it. Your first point of contact is your Team Leader.

Rubric Infringement

Candidates may infringe the rubric in the following way:

- answering two questions from Section B.

If a candidate has written two answers for Section B, mark both answers and award the highest mark achieved.

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

Candidates are expected to demonstrate the following in the context of the content described:

AO1	Identify and interpret explicit and implicit information and ideas. Select and synthesise evidence from different texts.
AO2	Explain, comment on and analyse how writers use language and structure to achieve effects and influence readers, using relevant subject terminology to support their views.
AO3	Compare writers' ideas and perspectives, as well as how these are conveyed, across two or more texts.
AO4	Evaluate texts critically and support this with appropriate textual references.
AO5	Communicate clearly, effectively and imaginatively, selecting and adapting tone, style and register for different forms, purposes and audiences. Organise information and ideas, using structural and grammatical features to support coherence and cohesion of texts.
AO6	Candidates must use a range of vocabulary and sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate spelling and punctuation.

USING THE MARK SCHEME

Please study this Mark Scheme carefully. The Mark Scheme is an integral part of the process that begins with the setting of the question paper and ends with the awarding of grades. Question papers and Mark Schemes are developed in association with each other so that issues of differentiation and positive achievement can be addressed from the very start.

This Mark Scheme is a working document; it is not exhaustive; it does not provide ‘correct’ answers. The Mark Scheme can only provide ‘best guesses’ about how the question will work out, and it is subject to revision after we have looked at a wide range of scripts.

The Examiners’ Standardisation Meeting will ensure that the Mark Scheme covers the range of candidates’ responses to the questions, and that all Examiners understand and apply the Mark Scheme in the same way. The Mark Scheme will be discussed and amended at the meeting, and administrative procedures will be confirmed. Co-ordination scripts will be issued at the meeting to exemplify aspects of candidates’ responses and achievements; the co-ordination scripts then become part of this Mark Scheme.

Before the Standardisation Meeting, you should read and mark in pencil a number of scripts, in order to gain an impression of the range of responses and achievement that may be expected.

J351/02

Mark Scheme

November 2022

In your marking, you will encounter valid responses which are not covered by the Mark Scheme: these responses must be credited. You will encounter answers which fall outside the 'target range' of Level of Response Bands for the paper which you are marking. Please mark these answers according to the marking criteria.

Please read carefully all the scripts in your allocation and make every effort to look positively for achievement throughout the ability range. Always be prepared to use the full range of marks.

INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXAMINERS

- 1 The co-ordination scripts provide you with examples of the standard of each band. The marks awarded for these scripts will have been agreed by the Team Leaders and will be discussed fully at the Examiners' Co-ordination Meeting.
- 2 The specific task-related notes on each question will help you to understand how the band descriptors may be applied. However, these comments do not constitute the mark scheme. They are some thoughts on what was in the setter's mind when the question was formulated. It is hoped that candidates will respond to questions in a variety of ways and will give original and at times unexpected interpretations of texts. Rigid demands for 'what must be a good answer' would lead to a distorted assessment.
- 3 Candidates' answers must be relevant to the question. Beware of prepared answers that do not show the candidate's thought and which have not been adapted to the thrust of the question. Beware also of answers where candidates attempt to reproduce interpretations and concepts that they have been taught but have only partially understood.
- 4 Candidates' answers should demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the texts. This knowledge will be shown in the range and detail of their references to the text. Re-telling sections of the text without commentary is of little or no value.

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS:

A INDIVIDUAL ANSWERS

- 1 The indicative content indicates the expected parameters for candidates' answers but be prepared to recognise and credit unexpected approaches where they show relevance.

J351/02

Mark Scheme

November 2022

- 2 Using 'best-fit', decide first which set of Level of Response Band Descriptors best describes the overall quality of the answer. Once the band is located, adjust the mark concentrating on features of the answer which make it stronger or weaker following the guidelines for refinement.
- Highest mark: If clear evidence of all the qualities in the band descriptors is shown, the HIGHEST Mark should be awarded.
 - Lowest mark: If the answer shows the candidate to be borderline (i.e. they have achieved all the qualities of the bands below and show limited evidence of meeting the criteria of the band in question) the LOWEST mark should be awarded.
 - Middle mark: This mark should be used for candidates who are secure in the band. They are not 'borderline' but they have only achieved some of the qualities in the band descriptors.
- 3 Be prepared to use the full range of marks. Do not reserve (e.g.) high Level 6 marks 'in case' something turns up of a quality you have not yet seen. If an answer gives clear evidence of the qualities described in the band descriptors, reward appropriately.

B TOTAL MARKS

- 1 Transfer the mark awarded to the front of the script.
- 2 The maximum mark for the paper is 80.

Question 2

Question 2 is about Text 1, The Green Rock by Sylvia Plath.

2 Look again at lines 12-21.

How does Sylvia Plath use language and structure to portray the rock and its importance for the children's games?

You should use relevant subject terminology to support your answer. (6 marks)

AO2: Explain, comment on and analyse how writers use language and structure to achieve effects and influence readers, using relevant subject terminology to support their views.
Level 6 (6 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A skilled analysis which demonstrates a sophisticated appreciation of how the writer has used language and structure to achieve effects and influence the reader. Candidates' analysis of both language and structure is consistent and detailed. • Precisely selected and integrated subject terminology deployed to enhance the response.
Level 5 (5 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An analysis which demonstrates a perceptive understanding of how the writer has used language and structure to achieve effects and influence the reader. Candidates' analysis of both language and structure is reasonably detailed and balanced. • Well-chosen subject terminology integrated into explanations.
Level 4 (4 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A developed explanation which shows a secure understanding of how the writer has used language and structure to achieve effects and influence the reader. Candidates comment on the effects of both language and structure, but the explanation may not be entirely balanced. • Relevant terminology should be used to develop ideas.
Level 3 (3 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A clear explanation which shows a general understanding of how the writer has used language and structure to achieve effects and influence the reader. Candidates refer to language and structure but may not give a full explanation of the effects of both. • Some use of relevant subject terminology to support ideas.

Mark Scheme

November 2022

Level 2 (2 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A straightforward commentary which shows some understanding of how the writer has used language and structure to achieve effects and influence the reader. Candidates are likely to refer more fully to either language or structure and note some features without explaining the effects. • Some use of subject terminology, though it may not always be relevant.
Level 1 (1 mark)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A descriptive response which shows limited awareness of how the writer has used language and structure to achieve effects and influence the reader. • Little or no use of subject terminology.
0 marks	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No response or no response worthy of credit.

Question 2 Guidance

Give credit for accurate use of relevant terminology integrated into responses, which shows a precise understanding of features and their effect in this text. Candidates must refer to the use of language and structure in their response. An imbalanced response, which does not achieve a reasonable balance between references to language and to structure, cannot achieve the higher levels.

Candidates may refer to some of the following points:

- how the passage is structured through the climb of the children from the sand to the top of the rock.
- the use of similes (“...two sturdy figureheads...shell of some giant turtle.....some docile animal”.
- the use of personification (“friendly”)
- the use of sibilance (“sailboat in stormy seas”)
- how the extract is structured through the sudden imperative command of Susan (“Come on!”)
- the way that the passage is structured through the use of parallel structure (“Sometimes the rock would be...sometimes it became”)
- the way the passage is structured through the use of the final short sentence. The effects are now considered.....

The tide eventually ‘retreats’ which is entirely appropriate for ‘a castle’. And we see that the rock is very deeply embedded in the sand: it is a powerful symbol of permanence which the regular onslaught of the sea cannot dislodge. This is a powerful contrast to the extreme youth and naïve opacity of the innocent children which is essentially transient. The ‘slimy black stones’ make it a challenge: which Susan rises to instinctively and fearlessly (although she is the elder sibling). In contrast David is cautious and thoughtful, mindful of potential danger. It is ‘friendly’ but also ‘irregular’ so perhaps deceptive. The zoomorphism is there as a matter of reassurance of the safety: ‘docility’ of this powerful natural phenomenon. ‘turtle- shell’ ‘lost in sleep’. The contrasts between the two of them are further reinforced by his dependence on her. They both become ‘sturdy figureheads’ after he has ‘grabbed her firm outstretched hand’. Their extreme youth and naïve opacity are emphasised by the list of different identities the rock has assumed for them. And that is emphasised by ‘But today.....’

The narrative voice is clear and non-judgemental. No opinion or view of what is described is given. It is directly detailing the children’s behaviour.

Question 3

Question 3 is about Text 2, Holiday Memory by Dylan Thomas.

3 Look again at lines 1-18.

Explore how the writer uses language and structure to describe the narrator's August Bank Holiday memories.

Support your ideas by referring to the text, using relevant subject terminology. (12 marks)

AO2: Explain, comment on and analyse how writers use language and structure to achieve effects and influence readers, using relevant subject terminology to support their views.

Question 3 Guidance

Remember that we are marking to reward candidates for what they have understood about the extract even if that may be less than we have made of it.

Give credit for answers that link aspects of language and structure with how they are used to present the old battlefield, supported by close reference to the text.

Give credit for accurate use of relevant terminology integrated into responses, which shows a precise understanding of features and their effect in this text.

Candidates must refer to the use of language and structure in their response. An imbalanced response which does not achieve a reasonable balance between references to language and to structure cannot achieve the higher levels.

Candidates may refer to some of the following points:

- Structure through the use of long complex sentences, after paragraph one
- Structure through the repetition of “I remember” at the start of paragraphs. The effects here are complex he recalls and evokes his boyhood memories (a time over a hundred years ago in 2022) but the piece is also infused with a range of adult attitudes and perceptions: ‘waste lot’ ‘pickle factory’ etc) we are given a picture of a transient moment of escape from the tawdry and mundane reality of daily life.)
- Structure through the first paragraph with its sequence of short sentences, and creation of collective nouns
- use of simile to describe the lion as “nibbled like a mouse” or the monkey-nuts “like salty hail”
- use of personification in “sea telling lies”
- use of alliteration in “wheezed its waltzes” or “dodgems dodged” from the steam contraption which propels it.

There is a massive amount to choose to talk about in the first paragraph: the use of increasingly striking but bizarre collectives suggest the clashing, striking, unusual range and mixture of sense experiences of the day. The deliberate ambiguity of ‘slap and tickle’; the assonance/ alliteration of ‘wince and whinny’ evoking quasi equine sound effects. And the clever wordplay of ‘hullabaloo of balloons’ is all part of this. Then there is the deployment of a range of outrageous ironic contrasts ‘whole harmonious hollow minute’ thus more alliteration; ‘small wet girl/ enormous bathing suit’ etc.

Reward ANY relevant attempt to unpack ‘boy and lion’. It can be one densely packed extended metaphor for the boy’s appearance and opposing reality; or, more literally a parallel and intersecting comparison of a boy and a lion (perhaps a circus or zoo is attached to the fair: think Stanley Holloway....) what many candidates will see are the ways in which the (further) ironic contrasts develop the nature of the boy's hunger and, arguably, the lion's: as well as the oxymorons that deliver it/them.

Mark Scheme

The fourth paragraph may well be impenetrable to anyone under the age of 70: 'monkey nuts'; 'alderman' 'bailiff' are archaic, not just a bit old fashioned. There may be something recognisable in 'salty hail'. The satirical portrait of the teddy boys and 'town' girls are also likely to be culturally distant. And 'bubble and squeak' is NOT breakfast!

Question 4

Question 4 is about Text 1, The Green Rock, and Text 2, Holiday Memory.

4 ‘Both texts powerfully present a day by the sea as enjoyable.’

How far do you agree with this statement?

- discuss the events and activities which make each day enjoyable • explain how far the days by the sea are enjoyable
- compare the ways the writers present those days as enjoyable.

SKILLS:

Mark the response out of 12 marks (AO4) and out of 6 marks (AO3) using the two sets of level descriptors below; add the two marks together to award a total mark out of 18.

Where the candidate's answer consistently meets the criteria, the higher mark should be awarded.

AO4: Evaluate texts critically and support this with appropriate textual references.		AO3: Compare writers' ideas and perspectives as well as how these are conveyed across two or more texts.
Level 6 (11– 12 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A sustained critical evaluation demonstrating a perceptive and considered response to the statement and a full explanation of the impact of the texts on the reader. Comments are supported by apt, skilfully selected and integrated textual references. 	Level 6 (6 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A detailed, interwoven comparison which explores writers' ideas and perspectives and how they are conveyed.

Comments are supported by persuasive textual references. 	Level 5 (5 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A sustained comparison of writers' ideas and perspectives and how they are conveyed.
Level 4 (7–8 marks)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A response with developed evaluative comments addressing the statement and some comments about the impact on the reader. Question 4 Guidance

This question assesses AO4 and AO3. AO4 is worth 12 marks and AO3 is worth 6 marks. The first two bullet points of the question prompt candidates to evaluate the text (AO4) and the third bullet point prompts candidates to compare the texts (AO3).

Candidates may construct their answer in response to the bullet points in combination and integrate their evaluative and comparative commentary throughout; this is a valid approach which may achieve the highest levels for AO4 and AO3.

Give credit for critical evaluation of 'how far' the candidate agrees with the statement that both texts present a day by the sea as enjoyable. Accept all valid evaluations which are supported by appropriate, integrated references to both texts. For example, some candidates may consider one text presents a day by the sea as more enjoyable than the other text.

J351/02

Mark Scheme

November 2022

Candidates may evaluate these ideas in response to AO4:

- before the tide ebbs, Plath creates a sense of how David's enjoyment was harmed by a string of words with negative associations ("cold, sloshing...gingerly"), while the words used to describe Susan's enjoyment are uninhibited and positive ("triumphant...hair blowing")
- Thomas's final paragraph starts with the recognition of nostalgia with "always radiant" suggesting that the enjoyment might have been remembered falsely
- both Plath and Thomas use direct speech to capture the sense of enjoyment
- both Plath and Thomas use extended and complex figurative language to capture the enjoyment of the day
- Plath uses a lexical cluster of words with romantic or magical associations to capture the children's enjoyment ("magic... lofty mountain...castle...giants...turrets")
- Thomas uses a string of paragraphs ("Children all day..." And "Mothers loudly warned...") made up of long complex-compound sentences to capture the endless and excited enjoyment of the day
- both Plath ("The sun was sinking when they stopped their play") and Thomas ("dowsing of the gas jets....last of the sandy sandwiches") end their day at the seaside with the going down of the sun and the day's enjoyment ending
- both Plath ("climbed... blowing... shouted... sprang up") and Thomas ("capered... squealed.... wheezed... dodged") use multiple verbs to capture the enjoyment and excitement of the day.

Candidates may compare these points in response to AO3:

- both texts describe how the seaside is a combination of enjoyment and some danger, unpleasantness or worry
- both texts portray the experience of the seaside visit from the perspective of children – although the Plath is achieved by third person narrative about two children compared to the Thomas with its first-person recollection
- in the Plath extract, the children's enjoyment is self-contained and separate from the world of adults (who aren't mentioned) while in the Thomas extract, adults are very much part of the description of the enjoyment
- in the Plath extract the enjoyment involves a magical imagining that means leaving the real world behind; while in the Thomas extract the enjoyment is grounded in reality and the ordinary lives of those involved.

In summary some more likely responses will feature:-

- The differences and effects of 1st person v 3rd person narrative
- Innocent siblings v adults and precocious youngsters
- Rurality v urbanity
